

Honesty Increasing? Evidence Seen as Hotel Patrons Take Fewer "Souvenirs"

THE world is getting more honest—or, prosperous. This startling fact, contrary to the belief of most persons, is revealed by a survey of local hotels where managers say that the list of missing articles from rooms is diminishing every year.

Due either to a rebirth of ethical qualities or to the growing conviction that a towel is not worth leaving, the list of missing articles is rapidly dying out and with this fact partially curbed the worst worry of hotel managers in past years, there are still plenty of travelers who like to keep their linen closet to look like a section of the hotel red book.

Sign is Significant

The familiar sign, "Stop! Have you forgotten anything?" found on the door of almost every hotel, now, however, strikes the eye of certain guests with something akin to sarcasm, hotel men say.

as there are some patrons who leave almost nothing in the room but the heavier furniture.

Coat-hangers, pillows from the walls, light bulbs, soap, bath mats—anything in short, that can be taken and hidden away in luggage—worn or later finds its way out of the room. But towels are still the most common.

Silverware from dining rooms is also another yearly bill of expense to hotels. Souvenir seekers almost wreck a hotel in a year's time. However, lately this craze has worn off, the managers say.

Forgotten Possessions

Many things are left behind in the rooms, however, that are not standard equipment. These articles represent the public's absent-mindedness and are of little use to the hotel.

Most common are umbrellas and pajamas, the latter of all shapes, sizes, colors and descriptions and styles of preservation. House slippers that vary in shape and style from the dainty, fringed-trimmed mules forgotten by midday to the broad, comfortable carpet foot-cases left behind by a traveling salesman. The coy razor-strop, hiding behind the bath-room door, is

PLAN FOX HUNT

Hardin County Farmers to Trail Marauders Thursday

KENTON, Jan. 23—On up the old shotgun and get ready for the big fox hunt here tomorrow.

Destruction of wild game by force in the district east of Ada and west of Kenton has resulted in the organization of an old-fashioned community hunt to get rid of the marauders.

Starting at 9 o'clock sharp tomorrow morning, lines of hunters with shotguns and dogs will begin to close in towards the center of the square.

To avoid any argument that might arise as to whose shot brought down the game taken, it has been agreed to turn all proceeds of the hunt to the Red Cross, which serves the entire district to be covered.

"Mystery Man" at County Home Keeps Up Futile Struggle to Regain Memory

SITTING by a window in the County home, the home of the "mystery man" sometimes sees a picture of a man who is a puzzle to all who see him. He is a man of about 40 years of age, with a high forehead, dark hair, and a mustache. He is dressed in a dark suit and a white shirt with a dark tie. He is sitting in a chair, looking out the window. He is the only person in the room. The room is a simple room with a window and a chair. The man is the only person in the room. The room is a simple room with a window and a chair. The man is the only person in the room.

less than when he drifted into the office of Sheriff James A. Deal, shortly before Christmas. After spending more than two weeks in the County jail while former Sheriff Deal conducted a search that extended over a dozen states, the mystery man was taken to the County home. He is there today, sitting by the parlor window trying fruitlessly to grasp the shadow of a memory that seems sometimes so near.

"Shadow" Is Elusive

Will the shadow ever sortle over the mind of the stranger? Will it bring back the lost memory that has left the old man without knowledge of his home.

name or friends? These are the questions that enter the minds of officials of the home as the stories of the strange shadows are told by the stranger.

Out of scores of inquiries received by former Sheriff Deal and numerous visitors who have called at the jail and at the County home, not one has provided a clue that would serve to identify the man. He remains as much a stranger as the day he entered the sheriff's office in the courthouse to ask for aid in locating his home and family.

Memory of Robbery Previous to a hazy recollection of a robbery in which the man believes he was beaten, he remembers nothing. Happenings of the last few weeks, however, he remembers.

Whether he has a home and relative, he does not know. But he feels that somewhere there are those who would like to find him just as badly as he would like to find them.

With nothing to do at the County home time hangs heavily on the old man's hands. The days and long evenings drag by as he tries to catch a brief hold on his fleeting memory.

A game of checkers or a little exercise with a broom to keep the walks clear of snow bring him a little respite from the monotony of the days.

COLUMBUS OPERA PROGRAM PLANNED

Marion Residents on Committee Assisting in Arrangements for Production

When the Chicago Civic Opera company comes to Columbus Feb. 18, 19 and 20, in its second seasonal appearance under auspices of the Columbus Grand Opera association, three of the most widely known operas written, "Faust," "Thais" and "Carmen" will be presented. The local members of the Central

WHAT A DOCTOR KNOWS ABOUT CONSTIPATION

There is a way of overcoming the tendency to constipation. And here is how you can PROVE it.

The next time your bowels need assistance, don't take the first laxative that comes to mind. Take Cascarets. They are the only laxative that can assure you its safety and effectiveness. Just as effective as using force, and it's good for you. Indeed, it helps you sleep. For cascara is the bark of a tree. The bark of this tree, and live to yourself without a day's sickness. What happens when you use Cascarets? They will usually function well for SEVERAL DAYS. One day, however, and perhaps two, the first—and the best—function of their own accord for a full longer time. Until you don't feel the need of any aid of any sort for weeks-on-end. So, the only habit you get from Cascarets is that of natural and normal regularity. How different from things one must usually repeat on the morrow! Cascarets is the blue laxative; and the familiar little candy Cascarets is doubtless its ideal form. Children beg for these tasty tablets, and many men and women wouldn't think of taking ANYTHING else for the purpose. And EVERY drugstore has them.

The story of Goethe's "Faust" is known to every music patron in the world since its first presentation as an opera 69 years ago at the Theatre Lyrique, Paris, and is sung through the world today more than any other five operas combined.

In the first act, "Faust" is an aged philosopher, whose life is empty. As he is about to drain a cup of poison, youthful voices in the street below give him a desire to be young again. Summoning Satan, he bargains with him to give him youth and to serve him during life, in return for his soul after death.

Faust falls deeply in love with Marguerite, an innocent maiden, and with great show of jewels, wins her everlasting love. As the opera progresses, Valentine, Marguerite's brother, is killed, she kills her child and is thrown into prison. Faust is contrite, but is in the power of Satan. The opera ends when Marguerite is borne to heaven by the angels.

Edith Mason, a soprano of great charm, who made such a success as Gilda in "Rigoletto," will sing the role of Marguerite. Charles Hackett will be in the role of Faust.

M'MURRAY BUSY IN KIWANIS WORK

Visits Various Clubs of District in Observing Anniversary Week

The week of Jan. 20-26 is the anniversary week of the fourteenth year of Kiwanis, and in recognition of this event, Dr. James W. McMurray, lieutenant governor of the fourth district of Ohio, which includes Sandusky, Norwalk, Port Clinton, Belleair, Fremont, Tiffin, Fostoria, Carey, Gallon, Mansfield, Crestline, Mt. Gilead and Marion, is making a special effort to address as many of the clubs in these cities as possible.

Monday noon he talked before the Carey club, Monday night before the Gallon and Crestline clubs, at Crestline, Tuesday night at Fostoria, and tonight has planned to go to Tiffin.

In his talks, Dr. McMurray stresses committee work, extension work, club work, etc., with special emphasis on child welfare, one of the chief interests of the clubs this year.

It is his duty as lieutenant governor to make one official visit to each city and club once during his term of one year, telling of Kiwanis and some things being done in other cities, particularly along the child welfare line of work.

There are 1,767 clubs in the United States and Canada celebrating the week, and a special message has been sent to each club from the president of the organization, O. S. Cummings, of Kansas City. Membership in the 1,767 clubs is in excess of 102,000. Kiwanis International celebrates its fourteenth anniversary this week.

The local club was organized in 1920, the year of the election of Warren G. Harding to the presidency, and has a membership limit of 125. At present the membership totals 55. Two men from each business profession are admitted to membership in the club.

Ed C. Winters is president of the local club. Dr. S. S. Siffert is secretary of the state agriculture committee. No special activities in the local club will mark anniversary week.

With Musterole

Influenza, Grippa and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches rub on good old Musterole.

Musterole relieves the congestion and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief. Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

Safety, silence and simplicity are features of the new Ford six-brake system

ONE of the first things you will notice when you drive the new Ford is the quick, effective, silent action of its six-brake system.

This system gives you the highest degree of safety and reliability because the four-wheel service brakes and the separate emergency or parking brakes are all of the mechanical, internal-expanding type, with braking surfaces fully enclosed for protection against mud, water, sand, etc.

The many advantages of this type of braking system have long been recognized. They are brought to you in the new Ford through a series of mechanical improvements embodying much that is new in design and manufacture.

A particularly unique feature is the simple way by which a special drum has been constructed to permit the use of two sets of internal brakes on the rear wheels.

The brake construction on the front wheels also is unusual. Here the brakes are enclosed without the use of a leather boot or sliding joint to protect the linkage between the brake rods and the mechanism on the brake plate.

A further improvement is effected by the self-centering feature of the four-wheel brakes—an exclusive Ford development. Through this construction, the entire surface of the shoe is brought in contact with the drum the instant you press your foot on the brake pedal. This prevents screeching and howling and makes the Ford brakes unusually silent.

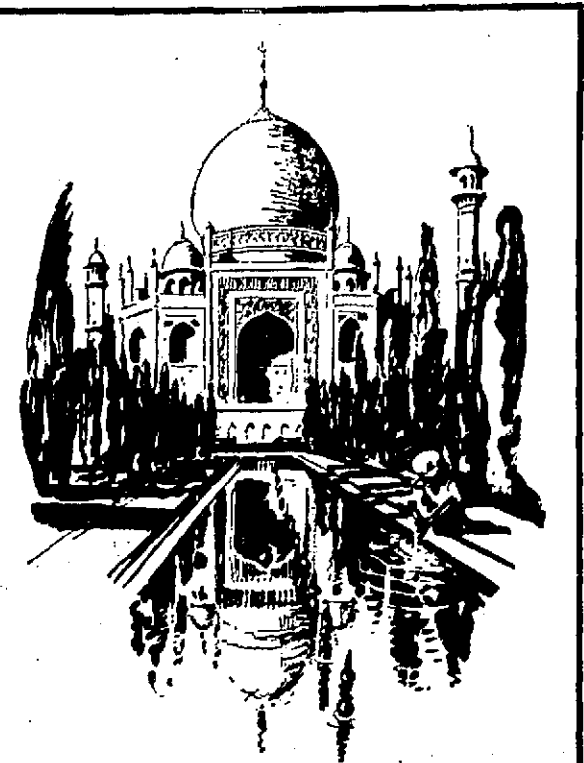

Another feature of the Ford brakes is the ease of adjustment.

The four-wheel brakes are adjusted by turning a regulating screw conveniently located on the outside of each brake plate. This screw is so notched that all four brakes can be set alike simply by listening to the "clicks."

The emergency or parking brakes on the new Ford require little attention. However, should they need adjustment at any time, consult your Ford dealer for prompt, courteous, and economical service. He works under close factory supervision and he has been specially trained and equipped to help you get the greatest possible use from your car over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

Hoover Goes Into Seclusion In Beautiful Florida Retreat; Policies, Men To Be Weighed

"WHITEHAVEN," J.C. PENNEY HOME
HOOPER'S MIAMI RESIDENCE

Only One Entrance to Island and That Guarded by Troops

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
Marion Star Staff Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 22.—Herbert Hoover went into seclusion today.

On Belle Isle, in the middle of Biscayne Bay, the president-elect turned his back on all engagements, denied himself to all visitors, and set himself down to a month's relaxation and contemplation of the problems that will be his after the fourth of March next. He plans to do a lot of fishing, but not even this activity could entice him today away from the luxurious lodge that is to be his home for the next four weeks.

MALO BROS.

Mr. Hoover's pre-inaugural retreat is ideally situated for his purpose. He wants quiet and solitude. The Perry estate on Belle Isle was made to order for him. There is but one entrance to it, and that is guarded by secret service operatives and Florida state police. Callers must identify themselves and disclose their business, if any, before being admitted to the grounds. All around him are the blue waters of the bay.

The island is reached only by a causeway over which there is comparatively little traffic. In this sub-tropical setting, with its waving palms and masses of flowers, during the next four weeks, Mr. Hoover will mull over the tons of data which he brought south with him after two weeks of conferences with the politicians of Washington.

Here the cabinet chances of a score of applicants are to be weighed in the balance and the policies of the new administration upon a score of problems probably to be determined.

Mr. Hoover was greatly pleased by his welcome to Florida which outlasted even the elaborate reception which was given to President Coolidge on his first visit of last year. It has been several years since the state, and particularly Miami Beach, has had an opportunity to entertain a chief executive and it is making the most of it.

Upwards of 50,000 persons lined the streets and the causeway yesterday when Mr. Hoover arrived, following what amounted almost to a triumphal tour down the east coast. He was greeted by the mayors of the twin cities, given the keys to both, as well as an expensive fishing outfit which he hopes to utilize later during his stay.

Tomorrow Mr. Hoover hopes to get

Dry Fund Increase Won; Hit Mellon Tax Refund Power

$24,000,000 GIVEN FOR ENFORCEMENT

ADD MONEY FOR SURVEY
Democrats and Insurgents Declare McKellar Proposal Highly Important

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Having secured a $24,000,000 increase in enforcement funds, a Democratic-Insurgent coalition in the senate sought to strip Secretary of Treasury Mellon of all authority over tax refunds in excess of $10,000—a power under which he has refunded $2,000,000 in the last six years.

As a result of the first deficiency appropriation bill, proposed by Senator McKellar, Democrat of Tennessee, brought the subject before the senate, in order to attach his measure to the appropriation bill, McKellar faced the task of gaining a majority vote to suspend the rules of the senate. He predicted success.

The deficiency bill carries $2,000,000 to pay the latest quota of

RUPTURE IS NOT A TEAR

NO BREAK TO HEAL

Some people have a mistaken idea that a rupture is a tear. It is not a tear, but purely a muscular weakness in the abdominal wall. Trusses merely brace these muscles, but do not strengthen them—on the contrary the wearing of the ordinary truss pad of increases this weakness, because it tends to shut off blood circulation. SURGICAL ADHESIVE PLAPAPADS are entirely different—being mechanical-chemical applicators—made adhesive purposely to keep the muscles from slipping. They are applied to the affected parts, and to minimize danger of slipping and painful friction. No straps, buckles or springs attached. Soft as velvet—easy to apply—inexpensive.

Awarded Gold Medal, Rome, Grand Prix, Paris, Honorable Mention, Panama Pacific Exposition, San Francisco, 1906. For almost a quarter century, this treatment has been successful in about half of the cases. Stacks of testimonials received even from the far corners of the Earth. Process of recovery is natural, so no subsequent use for trusses.

Saturday, Jan. 20th, at Harding Hotel (Marion) from 11 A. M. to 7 P. M. Free Demonstration By Dr. G. W. Elliott.

It costs you nothing to examine and have demonstrated to you privately this scientific self-treatment, which so many others attest under oath freed them from the truss and saved them from the knife.

Remember the time and place.

DISCOURAGED MEN AND WOMEN FIND HEALTH IN THIS TREATMENT

Success Has Crowned Efforts of Many Who Thought They Were "Through"—Improper Functioning of Vital Organs Is Cause of Most Worry and Failure

If you are sick and discouraged, don't sit around and worry. That will only make your condition worse. By all means investigate at once the Nu-Erb treatment at Stump & Sams Pharmacy. Thousands of men and women say that Nu-Erb has brought them new health, happiness and earning power.

Nu-Erb is a strengthening medicine that tones the body organs to proper functioning, relieving sluggish conditions that cause indigestion, gas, sourness, backache, frequent urination, flatulence, headaches, sleeplessness, loss of appetite, nervousness and rheumatic aches and pains.

If you suffer from such troubles do not become discouraged, but take the advice of thousands of others who have found that Nu-Erb often does the work after many other medicines have failed.

Dr. French's Nu-Erb marks great advance in present day medicine is evidenced in the recent statement of Miss Lee Grunty, well-known Niagara Falls lady living at 2514 Allen Ave.

"For several years past my health has been going bad on me," said Miss

Grundy. "My food soured after every meal and I would have disagreeable acid risings from undigested foods in my stomach. Weakened kidneys caused an aching pain across my back, and I believe, were the cause of the rheumatic pains thru my joints and muscles. I would get staggering dizzy spells, bilious attacks and sick headaches that kept me in constant distress. My nerves became so affected that I couldn't sleep soundly at night, lost my appetite, and my entire system became badly run down as a result of these troubles, for which I could seem to get no relief."

"Nu-Erb was actually the first medicine to ever help me, and I feel that I owe a lot to this wonderful preparation. A short treatment of this medicine has surprised me by the amazing improvement it has made in my health. My stomach now digests my food without indigestion or fermentation. Kidneys have been helped, so that the aching pains that I had were scarcely noticeable. My nerves are stronger; the headaches do not trouble me any more and I am also free from those awful dizzy spells and bilious attacks. I am surely very thankful for what Nu-Erb has done for me, and gladly recommend it, so that others may know of this fine medicine."

Stump & Sams Pharmacy, 121 Stuart, Main St., is the only place in Marion where Nu-Erb can be purchased. Go, use the Nu-Erb and be cured. Get the Nu-Erb and let the world know of this remarkable medicine. Trial bottle given free. Adv.

EX-KING AMANULLAH MAY BECOME EXILE

Would Remain in Russia if Prevented From Returning to Power

CAIRO, Jan. 23.—Former King Amanullah of Afghanistan, whose abdication was forced by the result of Afghan tribalism, may become a political exile in Soviet Russia if he is prevented from returning to some semblance of power in his native land, according to reports reaching here today from Kandahar.

The international political significance of the Afghan revolt has lifted it to the pinnacle of widespread attention. Afghanistan is a wild isolated mountain kingdom in the Himalayas—a country in which the outside world has little interest. Ordinarily the people of western Europe and America would never give a thought to the identity of the ruler of this obscure kingdom.

But the long standing conflict between Russian and British interests centering in Afghanistan has drawn international attention to the affairs of the mountain realm. Afghanistan occupies a geographical position of great importance standing as a buffer between Russia and British India.

INDICT COUNCILMAN ON BRIBERY CHARGE

Crippled City Detective Alleges He Gave Man $200 for Legislation

CLEVELAND, Jan. 23.—City Councilman Thomas W. Fleming was indicted today under $1,000 bond today, pending a hearing, next week on a charge of bribery.

Walter Oehme, crippled city detective, alleges that he gave Fleming $200 to obtain favorable action from council on a proposal to give Oehme a pension and pay his medical bills. A check which purports to be the bribe Oehme paid Fleming was produced before the county grand jury yesterday and Fleming was indicted. He pleaded not guilty and trial is to be held next week. Fleming is a prominent Republican politician and the acknowledged leader of the city's negro voters.

OSSING, N. Y., Jan. 23.—A band of Sing Sing prison keepers, state troopers and local policemen combed the countryside today in search of two of three daring convicts who scaled a 20-foot wall and escaped from the prison last night.

One of the convicts, Roger Evans, was captured on the railroad tracks a mile from the prison and was placed in solitary confinement. The three escaped amid a fusillade of shots by the guard on duty. All other prisoners were locked in their cells and an intensive manhunt was started for George Price and Frank Hawkes, the two still at large.

The VANGUARD

By Arnold Bennett

"Great Scott!" he growled. "I think these ideas were dead and buried long ago. I began to think years ago. I've got to stand and look at the world. Of course you need honest work. But what you need is a job. I don't want to take bread out of anybody's mouth. On the contrary, I'll be putting it in. All work's to be done at the Vanguard. Look at the people who are keeping you, making you a room and washing your clothes and playing music for you. And I'll be putting it in. Oh! All kinds of odd jobs. You'd be very useful to me. You're tempted?"

"Who wouldn't be?"

"It's agreed then. Salary doesn't matter. Start tomorrow."

"How like you," observed Miss Perkins. "Do you imagine I'd take any post without knowing quite a lot about my employer? It's employees who ought to ask for references, not employers."

"Just listen, then. I'll tell you about your employer."

Lord Furber stood and then sat down. He looked a clear and immediate nervous before Harriet. He felt that he was sitting for an examination and must pass it, if possible, with honors.

The Baron's Defense

He said to her:

"I'm a self-made man—don't be afraid. I'm not going to give details of the manufacture. Now there's always something amuseurish about anything you've made yourself. I know I'm amuseurish, say rough-finished, in parts. That's enough about that. I began as a mechanical inventor, and from the first my inventions brought me in a lot of money. When I say a lot, I mean a lot. I wasn't out after money, never have been, but money overtook me and I couldn't escape it. Royalties on patents, you know. I went on inventing until I was 35, and then I dried up. I suppose I'd run through the vein. Happens sometimes. You do come to the end of things. But money rolled in just the same. Even more. One day I found all of a sudden I was worth a million in gilt-edged stuff. That was nothing. Today if I was reduced to a million again I lay I should think myself a pauper. You notice I don't tell you how much I am worth. No reason why I shouldn't; but it's more effective not to. If you knew the figure you wouldn't be half as impressed as you are—no matter how big the figure was."

"Oh! Shouldn't I?" said Harriet.

"What made you think I was only pretending?"

"Yes, color. It never changed. When a woman faints it's because the blood's leaving her head. So she goes pale."

Miss Perkins laughed gayly.

"Five Towns again?" she said. "You're still in them. Won't you ever get away? Haven't you ever heard of rouge? I expect not."

Lord Furber turned his back, walked away, and returned. He was frowning. Then the frown vanished and he gave a loud laugh and lifted his arms.

"Famous!"

"Still, I was pretending," said Harriet.

Lord Furber dropped his arms and stamped.

"Confound you."

"Now, as you're so clever, tell me how to find work, and I'll find it."

Lord Furber wrestled with a wild, foolish impulse, and was thrown.

"You've found it?"

"What do you mean—I've found it?"

"Be my secretary."

There was a pause in which his lordship had a terrible fear that she would not refuse his offer.

rising out of her chair and strolling about the room.

"No, you wouldn't! And this pillage business is still going on, and I can't stop it. Nothing can stop it. I don't mind telling you that Henry VII paid all the expenses of governing England out of an income less than mine is. That'll give you a notion. People call me one of the new Huns, because I'm so darned rich. Well, can't help it. What could I do? I couldn't refuse my royalties or the interest on my investments. Silly! I couldn't burn the money. I've been asked why I don't use my money trying to regenerate society. Society's all wrong, but it can't be set right by chucking money about. Silly! It can only be set right by common sense, and common sense is a thing money can't buy. Same with charity. I do a bit of charity, because I'm afraid not to. But I hate it. I don't believe in it. It only does harm. Some of the new Huns spend their money on social schemes and charity because they're ashamed of being rich and they want to dope their consciences. I haven't a conscience, and if I had one it would be a perfectly clear conscience. So what in heaven's name do I do? I try all I can not to let my money accumulate. This yacht's one of my efforts in that line. My wife does her best, too. No good. He shook his head. "Nobody can spend more than a certain amount, and nobody's wife can. You see the difficulty."

"Then sit down. It's against nature for a woman to be tramping about while a man's in an easy-chair as easy as this one. Sit down."

Miss Perkins obeyed.

"Please, may I speak?" she asked modestly.

"I haven't quite finished," said Lord Furber.

"I only wanted to remind you that I'm not your secretary yet."

"No. And if you keep on tapping your feet like that you never will be."

Miss Perkins arose and resumed walking.

"Well," Lord Furber continued, "with a sort of deep growling sigh, 'as soon as I stopped inventing I began to be bored. Rather a risk to be raised to the peerage and walking up the house of lords. But I got tired of that after a few months. I had to find something to do. If I'd kept on doing nothing, with all my energy, I should soon have been doing nothing in a lunatic asylum. Then I discovered I had judgment—and financial judgment. I found that out by looking into my investments myself. Just for something to occupy myself with. I'd always left 'em to stockbrokers before. I soon found stockbrokers were listening to me, instead of me to them. So I took up finance. Great pity, because it made me richer than ever. But if a man has a faculty he must use it."

"Besides," said Harriet, "on the whole I suppose it's better to be too rich than too bored, isn't it?"

The baron gazed at her, frowning absently.

Love's Awakening

The Heart Story of a Woman's Lasting Affection

By ADELE GARRISON

Madge Flabbergasted

As the voices of Dicky and Edith collared me in their astounding colloquy came to my ears, I felt the primitive impulse to dash into the adjoining room and demand an explanation of the gift which Edith was protesting, and which he had told her made her "look like a million dollars."

Jewels of course—that was indicated by Dicky's glib reassurance—"It isn't as if they were real, you know." I wondered dizzily how long it had been since Dicky had made me a gift of the exquisitely fashioned "new" jewelry which he admired inordinately.

"There! look at yourself!" I guessed that he had swung her around facing a mirror. "Aren't you the spiffy looking dame, though? You haven't the heart to hand 'em back after you've lapped yourself in 'em, have you?"

It was an impossible situation, with Dicky and Edith ignorant of our presence, and with every word they uttered audible to us. Only Harry Underwood could have saved it, and with characteristic audacity he sent out a loud "Hello!" as he strode to the door between the two rooms and thence it open.

"Aha, the fools!" he said pointing melodramatically at Edith who was looking at her bedecked reflection in the mirror. From her ears depended exquisitely shaped dark blue stones beautifully set, while around her neck was a chain of the same stones. Her eyes met mine in the mirror, and for a quick instant I saw a hostile glare in them. Then she turned round with a cool little smile upon her lips as Harry Underwood continued, giving neither her nor Dicky a chance for speech.

"I've been telling Madge you were a second story worker in your odd hours," he said, "but I had no idea you were having such rich hauls. Now my lucky boy, you dilly with me, instead of lavishing the spoil upon your partner—what's your lay in this, Ed? Does he put you through the pantry window so you can unlock the door for him?"

Dicky is Unruffled

I had turned my eyes from Edith's face to Dicky's, expecting to find some sign of confusion upon it. Harry Underwood's glibness was of course meant to give him time to think up some excuse which would "save face" Chinese fashion. But I do not think even Harry expected to see Dicky's face absolutely unruffled, even smiling, as if he were enjoying some secret joke with himself.

"Well! this is some party!" he said, as if it were the most natural thing in the world for a man's wife to walk into his office and find him

Shortens Your Life
How to Stop it—Read This

It may surprise you to know high blood pressure is so serious that insurance companies refuse to issue policies to those who have it. All because it shortens life.

High blood pressure gives little warning and until certain symptoms take hold, you do not know it. They are head pains, flushed face, hot flashes, dizzy spells, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, and nervousness.

Often one bottle of Norma will bring reduction in blood pressure and stop the symptoms which distress and worry you.

Norma is a physician's prescription. It worked so wonderfully in his personal practice that it has now been placed in drug stores so that people everywhere can obtain it. Check the uncertainty of high blood pressure by reducing it with Norma.—Ad.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDG M. LEWIS

TODAY was Wednesday and when I let Jubilee down by his rope there was a cold wind blowing off of the lake and it came in between the two houses and made him swing like a pendulum, and when he got to the ground he found it froze over again, and when I got outside to empty the ashes the whole world was covered with a thin coat of ice and looked like it had been varnished. And when I opened the door to the barn to go in and milk the dummed heifers they turned their heads around and tried to look out doors to see if maybe the grass wasn't growing so they could go to the pasture.

I think we would all of us be glad if the wind was in the south and the dogwoods were in bloom and school had left out for the summer vacation and we could all go to the pasture. We would all like to take our clothes off and go in swimming, and some of us need to.

When the bunch came to the barn this morning Yonnie and Maggie were there but Feeble didn't show up, and when I had finished milking and went in to strain the milk Yonnie and Maggie were in with me and took off their mittens and stood with one foot on the stove door at the bottom and watched my mother put butter on the griddle and take off pancakes. I bet it was a smart woman that found out she could mix flour and a few things together and put them on the stove and have a pancake. When I said that at breakfast my grandfather said it was a smarter person than found out they could squeeze the juice out of fruit and let nature take her course and get a tick like a spite driver out of a drink of it.

Feeble was not in school when we got there, and she didn't show up after the bell rang, so when school let out we all went around and asked her mother what was the matter with her and her mother said she had fed down in the slush yesterday and got her stomachick all wet and now she has got the flu. Girls' stomachicks are certainly delicate. I bet I could skate across the pond on my stomachick in the slush and not get anything but a licking.

I told Yonnie on the way home that it was my fault for jerking the slay out from under Feeble. Yonnie said it was my fault for jerking the slay, but it was Feeble's fault for not staying in the slush and not falling in in the slush. Then we both laughed. But Feeble is tough even in the slush got a weak stomachick. She'll be all right.

How much money is spent on keeping boys from becoming criminals? and how much are expiating them and locking them up after they have become criminals?

Avoid Too Much Dosing For Flu Say Physicians

Its Toxins Upset Stomach and Constant Dosing Further Disturbs Digestion.

According to health authorities, a peculiarity of influenza is that its toxins upset the digestive system, especially in the case of children. Too much "dosing" still further disturbs the digestion, and should be avoided except on advice of a physician.

Vicks VapoRub is especially valuable because it is applied externally and so can be used freely with no risk of upsetting the digestion. Nor can it interfere with any other treatment your doctor may prescribe.

Tubbed on the throat and chest, Vicks acts two ways at once: (1) through the skin like a poultice, and (2) by means of its medicated vapors, released by body warmth and inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages.

In the present epidemic, as in 1915, Vicks is proving its usefulness in millions of homes. In spite of vastly increased capacity, it is again necessary to run the laboratories all night long, as the public now demands over 375,000 jars every 24 hours.—Ad.

PLAINTIFF LOSES CASE IN COURT

Crawford County Judge Reports Findings in One of Three Cases

BUCYRUS, Jan. 23.—One of the three motions for new trials heard before Common Pleas Court Judge J. Walter Wright yesterday were ruled on by the judge, who has not yet announced his ruling on the other motions.

In the case of James Renzert against the New York Central Railroad, Judge Wright ruled that the court found written agreement to be a release and settlement and that there is no evidence to warrant reformation of the contract. Expert brought suit against the railroad nearly a year ago as the result of injuries sustained by him while working on a crane at Thurston. He alleged that the railroad offered him a cash settlement of $2,100 and the right to retain his position which was denied him upon application, he had charged.

The other two motions heard were those of the Kay Thacker and Dr. Mark L. McElreath in which a jury some time ago awarded Thacker damages in the amount of $18,000 against the doctor on malpractice charges and the State against Wilbur Hamd arising out of the $25,000 bond furnished for his release prior to Hamd's disappearance some time ago.

PROBATE WILLS

Son Receives Farm in Jackson Township in Oath Document

MARYSVILLE, Jan. 23.—The will of Christian Oehler, late of Jackson township, has been probated in the Union county probate court. The document, drawn March 10, 1921, was witnessed by Isaac Oehler and D. A. Tompkins.

A son, Melvin Homer Oehler, receives a farm of 80 acres, in Jackson township, as long as he lives, provided he assumes whatever incumbrance may be against the property at the time of Christian Oehler's death. At the death of the son, Melvin, the land goes to his children.

All the personal property, including money and chattels, is to be received by another son, Thomas J. Oehler, who is to lend whatever help he may see fit and proper in stocking the farm and helping manage whatever incumbrance may be on the land.

In case Melvin becomes dissatisfied with the testator's disposition of the property and attempts to break the will, his shares under the will goes to his children when they become of legal age.

Under the will of Mathia Fladt, late of Union township, the widow, Mathia Fladt, receives the entire estate, both real and personal, for her life. In case of necessity, such as for payment of doctor bills, she is permitted to use the proper amount of money or sell the necessary amount of real estate. At her death, the remainder of the estate is to be equally divided between the following children: Arthur, Corneille and Emmitt Fladt, Anna Nicol, Lorna Fickenscher and Meda Hinderer.

Organ and Violin Concert Pleases Galion Audience

GALION, Jan. 23.—A program which thoroughly delighted an appreciative audience was given last night in celebration of the third anniversary of the dedication of the high school pipe organ, when W. E. Piller, Jr., organist, of New York, and his wife, Canille Swan Piller, violinist, appeared in recital. The program arranged by Miss Beale Todd of the Fine Arts department of the school was sponsored by the H-Y club and attended by the music lovers of the city.

The program included three groups for organ in which Mr. Piller, who is a member of the firm of Henry Piller's Sons, organ builders of Louisville, Ky., who installed the school instrument, demonstrated the various tones of the organ and interpreted a number of the organ works. Horowski, Ciermabault, Liszt, Handel, Wilder and Wagner were among the composers whose compositions were played.

Mrs. Piller gave two violin groups which displayed unusual technical and interpretive ability. Especially two were "Adoration," by Horowski and the "Rondino," by Beethoven-Kreiser. Organ is Gift.

The dedicatory recital which was held three years ago last night was given by Edwin Arthur Kraft, noted Cleveland organist and Mrs. Virginia Klapp Bessie, soprano of Columbus. The organ was the gift of Mrs. E. M. Freese given to the high school for the advancement of music in the schools. WITH their star guard and forward out of the lineup on account of eligibility rules, Epworth cagers handed the first half championship of the Senior Sunday school league to the Central Christian quintet by defeating the Waldos five in a close 20-27 game, at the Y. M. C. A. last night.

The game, which was preceded by the clash between Christians and Baptists, was about the fastest of the league schedule so far. Gilmore, the winners' high scoring center, went on another rampage to tally seven field goals and one foul. The Methodists entered the game the underdogs, as Partridge, forward, and Gram, back guard, were declared ineligible before game time. Partridge was supposed to be the backbone of the team after his sensational work of the last two games and Bud Gram was rated the best back guard in the loop. Bill Lyons popped up to replace Gram while Gilmore took over the offensive work of the winners. Strine, Waldos center, was held to nine points and H. Rengert, who broke the league's high scoring record with 17 points against Calvary, was stopped with a fielder and a foul. Gilmore's all-around work featured

WHO'S NO. 3?

Yankee Players To Sport Numbers Next Season

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Although it would seem that every fan from coast to coast should be familiar with the features of the world's champion New York Yankees, the owners of the club think otherwise. They have arranged to put large 10 inch navy blue numbers on the backs of the Yankee uniforms so that "casual fans" from out of town may identify the players instantly by referring to a score card.

Uabe Ruth will be number three, corresponding to his position in the batting order.

DUNDEE-FIELDS TITULAR BATTLE MAY BE OKAYED

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—A welterweight championship battle between Joe Dundee and Jackie Fields, contest challenger, may result from a decision made by the New York state athletic commission yesterday.

The commission reversed a previous dictum that Dundee be compelled to take on young Jack Thompson of Chicago, who knocked out the champion when the latter's title was not at stake.

Shoemaker Takes Lead In Tourney

GROZINS IN SECOND PLACE, SEVEN PINS BEHIND TOP BOWLER

Steinmetz Rolls 257 to Take High Single Game Score

BY KARL R. McELROY

Sports Editor, The Star

WITH five men passing the 1000 mark, the sweepstakes bowling tournament on the Recreation Alley here got under way last night with Shoemaker going into the lead with a 1501-pin total.

Tournament prizes of $50 are being contested for by 15 of Marion's leading bowlers. One game is rolled on each of the eight alleys at the local bowling plant.

Last night's games were featured by the fight for first place with the local changing several times before Shoemaker finally jumped to the front in the seventh frame, never to be benched.

Schuler was on top until the sixth game was rolled, when Grozier, with scores of 198 and 192, took advantage of the leader's slower pace to gain a three-pin lead.

Schuler's position on top in front did not last long. Shoemaker went hot in the seventh to crash through with 245 pins to take the lead. The last game was for blood with the first four men in the race hitting the pins for high scores. Grozier led the boys in this round with 225 but Shoemaker's 226 was enough to keep him ahead with a margin of seven pins.

Grozier's score was good enough to give him second place over Schuler, who chalked up 211 in the frame.

With a score of 257 pins in the third game, Steinmetz led the tourney bowlers in the individual game performance.

The match will continue next Tuesday night.

HARTNETT TO MARRY

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Charles L. "Gully" Hartnett, catcher for the Chicago Cubs, will be married here next Monday to Miss Martha Marshall of Chicago, it was announced today.

He'll fall just as quickly as the others when I tag him," Knorr asserts. "You can't train a jaw to outpoint a pile driver."

It was not until two years ago that Christner took up boxing. One night he put on the gloves at a factory smoke and knocked out his men. After that he was in great demand at smokers and the idea of capitalizing his popularity began to appeal to him as he moved down one opponent after another.

In 41 bouts, including 15 as a professional, he felled 37 opponents. Early in the fall of 1927 Christner was only a raw beginner and had not even thought of turning professional. He wanted to see the Dempsey-Fussey fight in Chicago, so he journeyed to Lincoln, Neb., and offered his services to Dempsey as a sparring partner. He lasted only a few days, as Dempsey considered him too crude.

Leo Flynn, who was in charge of the Lincoln Fields camp, remembers Christner well.

"Yes, indeed, I do," chips Flynn. He socked our Jack one day and Dempsey had to grab to keep his feet."

Christner received an education at St. Mary's industrial school near Baltimore—the same institution that gave Babe Ruth to baseball.

As a small boy at St. Mary's he remembers Al Johnson as the school's best singer. Later he "stept two beds away" from Babe Ruth in a dormitory. He used to catch Ruth when the Babe pitched for the school team.

PITCHERS SIGNED

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—With the receipt of the signed contract of Fred Fitzsimmons, all the regular pitchers of the New York Giants have been lined up for the 1928 season.

What a funny way to escape a COLD

Prevent a cold by rinsing the hands with Listerine before each meal. Sounds strange doesn't it? Not when you know the facts, however.

During the day your hands accumulate germs. Ordinary washing with soap and water doesn't destroy them. So, carried to the mouth on food, they develop, attacking the mucous membrane. A cold or sore throat or both frequently follow.

Full strength Listerine is powerful against germs—kills most varieties in 15 seconds. Therefore its use on the hands before each meal is simply another wise precaution against colds and sore throat. Mothers handling children's food should particularly bear this in mind. Write for our great free book, "Personal Hygiene" Address Dept. C, Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo. U. S. A.

And for SORE THROAT

Listerine built its reputation on its ability quickly check sore throat which is also a germ. At the first symptom of sore throat with it full strength. Repeat the treatment frequently.
